Candid family portraits that tell your unique story

Your relationship with your family is special. There are so many celebrations, milestones and new arrivals you experience together; moments and emotions you share over the years that can easily get lost to time.

For truly precious mementos, you'll want to preserve those moments with professional family photos – images that tell the unique story of how you and your family change and grow through the years. And it's a story you can share through generations.

Lose yourself in the moment with your loved ones and let us capture it for you to treasure always.

How do you want us to tell your story?

Family means something different to each of us. It can be a couple, with or without children, brothers, sisters, parents and grandparents. For some of us, it's our pets or close friends. The joy of a moment shared, a candid expression, some lighthearted teasing between siblings, the respect for grandparents, or the pure joy parents feel for their newborn baby; all these times of togetherness, caught creatively on camera, tell your family's story, for valuable personalised portraits that last for years.

Just as your family is unique, and each member's personality different, your family photo session should cater to them – that's how you get realistic images that reflect the true dynamic of your relationships. Is your style formal and traditional, spontaneous, fun – or all of these?

Relaxed & Fun

Your Image Technique photographer, Philippe Flatt will discuss your needs and ideas with you to create a relaxed, fun photography experience. By getting to know you and your family, Philippe can focus on capturing the relationship and connection between you. He guides you through the entire creative process, from your initial enquiry to the photo shoot to choosing your beautiful family portraits. He also offers styling and clothing advice, suggesting different backgrounds and settings in our studio.

You and your family set the pace of your photo session. If your baby needs a nap, or your toddler needs coaxing from hiding behind you, we'll accommodate that. If elderly family members need time to relax into the session or rest a while, that's no problem. Even the most camera shy feel at ease with Philippe's relaxed manner – and his 15-year expertise will ensure you forget the camera's even there.

We take our time to get images of you and your family that everyone will love. It's your family, your story – your beautiful family photos.
